Dear Shaul,

I am writing to thank you for talking to our Middle East Peace Process conference last week, and for giving them a concrete sense of what future borders would look like.

All the participants found what you had to say both interesting and hugely helpful in building our understanding of the Israel/Palestinian issue. Your tour helped the participants to visualise the link between settlement construction and borders.

While the process was in crisis around us, your analysis helped to put developments in a richer context.

I genuinely believe that thanks to the course our system now has a more sophisticated understanding of the historical, political, geographical and religious aspects of the conflict. I am grateful for your role in it.

Very best wishes,

Matthew

Dear Shaul,

We quickly learned that you're revered by your peers, and this morning we saw for ourselves why you are so respected. Thank you for the comprehensive and honest presentation of your excellent work. We're all benefitting from your long experience, and we're grateful.

Best, Valerie
